BUDDY CURRY

Buddy Curry, a graduate of the University of North Carolina, four-year football letterman and ACC All-Conference performer at linebacker, joined the Atlanta Falcons in 1980 and was named NFL Defensive Rookie of the Year. Eventually becoming one of the team captains, he spent eight years with the Falcons. After his professional career on the field ended, Curry has spent the majority of his career in sports and related fields, helping provide children the opportunity to learn football skills as well as develop character while interacting with many of their favorite professional ball players. Curry lives in Buford, Ga. with his four children and wife Dawn. He enjoys coaching youth football and is an active banquet and event speaker

BOBBY BUTLER

Bobby Butler played his collegiate under Bobby Bowden at Florida State where he earned All-America honors in both football as well as track. He was a first-round pick of the Atlanta Falcons in 1981, where he began what has been a long and close relationship with Buddy Curry. Butler played 12 years in the NFL, all for the Falcons and had the reputation of being one of the top defensive backs in the league. Today, as well as being an ordained minister, Butler works closely with kids, mentoring them both on and off the field. Butler currently lives in Norcross, Ga. with his four children and wife Cyrillyn.
